

Who Does What in Medicine?

By Suzanne Brue

- ISTPs and ISFPs appear to be most attracted to monitoring jobs such as anesthesiology. Extraverted SPs were less comfortable with the extended attention span required by these specialties.
- INT types are attracted to pathology and research due to their ability to detach intellectually. They enjoy the challenge of medicine without ever seeing a patient.
- Pediatrics appeals most to the warmhearted ESFJs and ISFJs. ENFJs and
